

List of Figures

Figure 1	The Statue of Dhārī Devī, on the Right a Copy (Source: TemplePurohit.com 2016, adapted).	3
Figure 2	Position of Dhārī Devī Temple, Dam and the City of Srinagar on River Alaknanda (Source: Google Earth 2021, adapted).	5
Figure 3	One of the Models of the new Temple (Niebuhr, Oct. 2014).	6
Figure 4	Table by S. Kumar et al. (2015:189)	8
Figure 5	Photograph of Lieutenant Crookshank at the Gohna Lake on August 25, 1894 (Source: Shah 2014).	44
Figure 6	Illustration of a former neighbouring Sāngo (Rope Bridge) at Srinagar not far from the Site of the Goddess Dhārī. “The Rope Bridge at Sirinagur” by Thomas Daniell (1805).	46
Figure 7	First Page of the Letter of the Dr Bhimrao Ambedkar Vikas evam Sangharsh Samiti to the Expert Team of the MoEF (Source: Das & Jindal 2011:27ff).	61
Figure 8	The former Temple of Dhārī Devī (Source: Tourismguide Uttarakhand 2012).	100
Figure 9	Existing, under construction and planned Hydroelectric Power Projects in Garhwal (Source: Schneider 2014).	162

List of Figures

Figure 10	Indundated Sheds in the Area below the Temple, illustrated in the Amar Ujālā with the Headline “God Varuna arrives at Dhārī Devī’s Threshold” (Source: Maithani 2012).	170
Figure 11	River, Temple and the broken Dhari Bridge in the wake of the Major Flood Event in August 2012 (Source: Amar Ujālā 2012, Aug. 5b).	172
Figure 12	Dam Supporters waving black Flags at the Project Site in Protest of the Arrival of Swami Sanand (Source: Amar Ujālā 2013, May 13).	192
Figure 13	The destroyed Shastra Seema Bal Training Academyin Srinagar became one of the iconic Pictures of the 2013 Flood Disaster (Source: Upadhyay 2013).	197
Figure 14	News Channel Aaj Tak’s Portrayal of the Resettlement of Dhārī Devī (Source: Gusain 2013b, min.: 02:45, 02:49, 02:57).	211
Figure 15	Kedarnath Temple in 1882 (Source: Chauhan 2013).	227
Figure 16	“Southside of Temple, Kedarnath, Garhwal, 1882” (Source: Chauhan 2013).	228
Figure 17	The Arrangement of the Geomantic Axes in Uttarahand (Source: Rath 2013).	230
Figure 18	The new Dhārī Devī Temple (Source: Khandige 2021).	254