

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
Local spaces	9
Martin Picard Gēmu Communities and Otaku Consumption. The (Sub) Culture(s) of Videogames in Japan	11
Yasuo Kawasaki The Power of “Place” in Videogame Culture. Focusing on Game Centers in Japan (Column)	37
Dorothea Mladenova Platformization in the Funeral Industry. The Case of Online Funeral Discounters	41
Masako Hashimoto Beyond Character Consumerism. A Manga Adaptation of Can't be Howlin' at the Moon and the Problem of War Poetry	65
Tani Levy Entering Another World. A Cultural Genre Discourse of Japanese Isekai Texts and Their Origin in Online Participatory Culture	85
Zoltan Kacsuk Using Fan-Compiled Metadata for Anime, Manga and Video Game Research. Revisiting Azuma's “Otaku: Japan's Database Animals” Twenty Years On	117

Table of Contents

Luca Bruno

A Glimpse of the Imaginative Environment. Exploring the Potential of Data-driven Examinations of Visual Novel Characters 143

Transnational spaces 171

Kyohei Ito

Mystery of Plane Symmetry. A Philosophical Approach to Mirror Image and Shadow 173

Stevie Suan

Performing Virtual YouTubers. Acting Across Borders in the Platform Society ... 187

Melanie Fritsch

Ludomusicology meets Japanese Game Studies. An experience report 225

Juhyung Shin

Gaming Places. Where We Play, Where We Learn (Column) 241

Transregional spaces 249

Fanny Barnabé

The Transformative Power of Speedrun. Deconstruction and Recodification of Pokémon Games' Communicative Structures 251

Konstantin Freybe

How Metal Gear Solid 3: Snake Eater Obscures Moral Ambiguities 281

Peter Mühleder and Martin Roth

Playing Out of Bounds? Cross-Platform Community Practice in and Beyond Dark Souls 315

On the Contributors 335