

International Association for the Study of Traditional Medicine (IASTAM)

The Association was organized in 1979 at a meeting at the Australian National University in Canberra. The meeting was organized by Professor A.L. Basham, Head of the Department of Asian Civilizations, and it was co-sponsored by the World Health Organization. IASTAM encourages research by anthropologists, historians, sociologists, and health professionals. The organization publishes a Newsletter and plans to initiate a journal. Its meetings are held every four to five years, and the next one in Surabaya, Indonesia from September 2-7, 1984, will be hosted by the School of Pharmacy at Airlangga University. The Program Chairman is Dr. G. Jan Meulenbeld, Institute of Indian Studies, Groningen University, Grote Kruisstraat 2/I, 9712 Groningen, Holland. For complimentary copies of a Newsletter of the Association published twice a year since September 1982, write to the Secretary-General, Dr. Charles Leslie, Center for Science & Culture, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19711.
