International Agreement

China has formally acceded to the Bangkok Agreement, according to a press release of the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP) on 10th April. Calling it "an important development", the press release said China's accession could have a profound impact on regional trade relations in Asia and the Pacific and possibly in the rest of the international trading system. M.A. Kamal, chairman of the Standing Committee of the agreement, announced it at the end of the 16th session of the committee which met in Bangkok from April 3 to 5. He pointed out that it is significant that China has acceded to Asia's only regional preferential trading agreement ahead of its accession to the WTO, saying this marked the beginning of a new era for international trade relations in the Asia-Pacific region. China's accession is significant because it marks that country's debut into regional trading agreements and is, therefore, an important milestone in its two-decades long outward-looking policy orientation, the press release said. "But more significantly, it also means that members of the agreement will have access on concessional terms to the markets of two giants of the global economy, China and India, with a combined population of more than two-and-a-half billion", the press release noted. China's accession to the agreement will certainly makes membership of the agreement a worthwhile goal to pursue for many other countries in the region, said the press release. The Bangkok Agreement, signed in 1975 as an initiative of ESCAP, is a preferential tariff arrangement that aims at promoting intra-regional trade through exchange of mutually agreed concessions by member countries. Till now, five countries, Republic of Korea, India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Lao People's Democratic Republic were signatories to the agreement. Several other countries have also indicated their desire to join. So far two rounds of trade negotiations have taken place and a schedule for the commencement of a third round is being drawn up by ESCAP, which also functions as the secretariat for the agreement. (XNA, 11 Apr 00)

International Agreement

The governments of China, Laos, Myanmar and Thailand officially reached an agreement on 20th April in Myanmar's border town of Tachilek on commercial navigation on the Lancang-Mekong River. On behalf of their respective governments, Chinese Minister of Communications Huang Zhendong, Lao Minister of Communication, Transport, Post and Construction Phao Bounaphol, Myanmar Minister of Transport Major-General Hla Myint Swe and Thai Minister of Transport and Communications Suthep Thuegsuban signed the agreement. Under the agreement, the Lancang-Mekong River will be opened for commercial navigation among the four signatory countries one year after the endorsement and vessels of any signatory nation are entitled to sail freely between Simao in China and Luangprabang in Laos. According to the agreement, the ports to be opened by the four signatory countries for commercial navigation on the Lancang-Mekong River total 14, of which four are from China, six from Laos, two each from Myanmar and Thailand. The agreement will enter into force for five years from the date of signature and it will be automatically renewed for successive periods of three years unless a signatory country gives notice in writing to terminate the agreement three months before the expiry of its validity. The signing of the agreement is aimed at developing on the Lancang-Mekong River the international passenger and cargo transportation, trade and tourism among the four signatory countries. (XNA, 21 Apr 00)

HKSAR Agreement with Thailand (Apr 25)

The Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) and Thailand signed an agreement on the transfer of sentenced persons as part of the efforts to facilitate further cooperation in the enforcement of penal sentences. Being the fifth of its kind concluded by the HKSAR, the agreement will enable sentenced persons of Hong Kong and Thailand to be transferred back to their home countries to serve their custodial sentences. At present there are some 80 Hong Kong residents serving sentences in Thailand, making up the biggest group of Hong Kong residents serving sentences in foreign countries. Meanwhile over 30 Thai nationals are serving their jail term in Hong Kong. Since Hong Kong's return to China, the HKSAR government has already signed similar agreements with Britain, the United States, Sri Lanka and Italy. (XNA, 26 Apr 00)

HKSAR Agreement with the Philippines (Apr 28)

The Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) and the Philippines signed an agreement on the transfer of sentenced persons. The accord, the sixth of its kind, was signed by the Secretary for Security Regina Ip on behalf of the HKSAR government and the Philippines' Secretary of Justice Artemio G. Tuquero. The agreement will enable sentenced persons to be transferred back to their home countries or territories to serve their custodial sentences, which will enable sentenced persons to serve their sentences in an environment free of language and cultural barriers. The agreement will enter into force 30 days after both sides notify each other in writing that their respective requirements for the entry into force of the agreement have been complied with. (XNA, 29 Apr 00)

PRC Laws and Regulations

“Law on the Prevention of Air Pollution of the People’s Republic of China“, revised and adopted at the 15th session of the 9th NPC Standing Committee on 29th April 2000. This law, which consists of seven chapters with 66 articles, will take effect on September 1, 2000. (Decree No.32 of the President of the PRC, signed by President Jiang Zemin on April 29, 2000) (Full text: RMRB, 30 Apr 00)

The Ministry of Labor and Social Security recently issued a regulation that will enable Chinese to work fewer hours but earn more pay. According to the method, in the light of the increase of the nation’s holidays from seven days to ten days a year, the average work hours per month will be diminished to 20.92 days or 167.4 hours, and salaries will be increased. Overtime work will be remunerated at the rate of at least 150 percent of the original salaries, the regulation said, and for holidays, the pay should be at least 200 percent of the original salaries. (XNA, 4 Apr 00)

China has unveiled a new set of regulations that will help strengthen the security protection of its computer information systems. The Ministry of Public Security and the State Bureau of Quality and Technical Supervision jointly issued the rules that will come into effect on January 1, 2001. The rules, called classification standards of computer information system security protection, will help to tackle computer-related crimes such as hack attacks, computer viruses and the spread of harmful information, officials said. Official statistics showed that so far, over 3.5 million computers have been connected with the Internet and net surfers reached 10 millions. Meanwhile, computer-related crimes have also been on the rise, the officials said. (RMRB, XNA, 6 Apr 00)

“Interim Regulations on Board of Supervisors for Key State-Owned Financial Institutions“. (See C.a., 2000/3, p.330/24) (Full translation: Xinhua, 21 Mar 00, in SWB, 11 Apr 00) These regulations shall come into effect on the day of their promulgation. The Interim Provisions on Board of Supervisors of Wholly State-Owned Commercial Banks that were approved by the State Council on 20th October 1997 and promulgated by the People’s Bank of China on 12th November 1997 shall be annulled at the same time.

These regulations are formulated according to relevant laws, including the Commercial Banking Law of the PRC and the PRC Insurance Law, for the purpose of improving the supervision mechanism of key state-owned financial institutions and strengthening supervision on key state-owned financial institutions. (Article 1)

By key state-owned financial institutions, these regulations refer to policy banks, commercial banks, financial asset management companies, securities companies, and insurance companies that are owned by the state and to which the State Council appoints boards of supervisors. (Article 2)

A board of supervisors shall not participate in or interfere with operational policy-making or operational and management activities of a state-owned financial institution. (Article 5)

A board of supervisors shall inspect how a state-owned financial institution enforces and implements relevant financial and economic laws as well as administrative laws, rules, and regulations of the state; inspect a state-owned financial institution’s financial affairs; inspect a state-owned financial institution’s operational efficiency, profit distribution, maintenance and increase of value of state assets, and fund operation; inspect the operational behaviour of a state-owned financial institution’s directors, presidents (managers), and other key responsible persons. (Article 6)

In general, a board of supervisors shall conduct inspection on a state-owned financial institution twice every year and may conduct ad hoc special inspection on a state-owned financial institution depending on actual requirements. (Article 7)

CPI (A), CPI (B) and Hang Seng CPI are consumer price indices which cover some 50%, 30% and 10% respectively of urban households in Hong Kong. The base period (i.e. Oct. 94 - Sep. 95) monthly household expenditures of these groups were 4,000-15,999 HK$, 16,000-29,999 HK$ and 30,000-59,999 HK$. The composite CPI is based on the expenditure pattern of all these households taken together.
