Hong Kong SAR

The central government of China on 21st March appointed Vice Foreign Minister Ji Peiding special commissioner of the Office of Special Commissioner of the Chinese Foreign Ministry in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, succeeding Ma Yuzhen. (RMRB, 21 Mar 01; XNA, 22 Mar 01)

Clara Chong was newly appointed as executive director of the Hong Kong Tourist Association (HKTA). The HKTA announced on 20th March that the name change into the Hong Kong Tourism Board will take effect from 1st April following the passage of the HKTA (Amendment) Bill 2001 on 14th March. At a press conference, Selina Chow, chairwoman of the Hong Kong Tourism

Board, said the reconstitution will help the organization reach the goal of making tourism the business of all Hong Kong people, instead of any "upgrade" as some would describe it. The major change is that the Hong Kong Tourism Board will no longer be an association of members but a body that could truly represent Hong Kong's tourism-related industries in their entirety, she said, adding that the board of management can be expanded to up to 20 members. As to the scope of service, Chow said the cession of the membership allows the Tourism Board to align the scope of services. "It illustrates well to the public that we are here to serve the entire travel industry, the related service industries and the entire community", she said. Clara Chong said the reconstitution of the HKTA as the Hong Kong Tourism Board will provide the organization with a more structured and targeted approach for attracting visitors to Hong Kong than ever before, utilizing the methodology of a "knowledge-based economy". "As the Hong Kong Tourism Board, we are ready to set sail to captivate the world using the latest methodology of a 'knowledge-based economy'", she stressed. Chow confirmed at the press conference that the emblem to represent the Hong Kong Tourism Board would remain the red junk. (XNA, 21 Mar 01)

Canada (Mar 28)

China and Canada will cooperate on protecting the biodiversity of the Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region and the Canadian International Development Agency will provide 33m RMBY (about 4m US$) to fund the project. A Memorandum of Understanding for the project was signed in Beijing by Long Yongtu, chief negotiator of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation, and the Canadian Ambassador to China Howard Balloch. The project is the first joint efforts between China and Canada concerning biodiversity. It's also the first time an international cooperative project on nature reserves has been developed for the autonomous region. Inner Mongolia is endowed with diverse ecosystems and rich biodiversity. In order to protect these biological resources, 96 nature reserves of various types had been established in the region by the end of 2000. However, these reserves have been suffering from a shortage of funds. At the same time, overgrazing, random felling, removal of vegetation as well as soil erosion have led to serious deterioration of the habitat required to maintain the biodiversity in the area. This project is aimed at developing new approaches to protecting biodiversity so as to sustain and improve the livelihood of the people in the local communities, said Xie Zhenhua, director of the State Environmental Protection Administration. By the end of March, the Japanese government had provided a total of 2.6677 trillion yen worth of loans to China to fund 171 construction projects. (XNA, 31 Mar 01)

The sixth Chinese-Sudanese joint ministerial council meetings ended in Beijing, and the minister of state for international cooperation, Dr Adam Balo Muhammad, said an agreement was signed granting 10m RMBY, the second contribution by the Chinese government to Sudan in less than six months. The first grant was about 25m RMBY. He said the cancellation of Sudan's debts to China was an important issue that was being discussed, particularly since the People's Republic of China was committed to the Chinese-African conference held last October, at which 1.2bn US$ in debts in the African continent were cancelled. The Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the Involvement of Children in Armed Conflicts was adopted by the UN General Assembly on 25th May last year and then became open for signature by UN member states. It prohibits the compulsory recruitment of children under 18 and their participation in combat. Signing the document on behalf of the Chinese government, Wang Yingfan, China's Permanent Representative to the United Nations, said the move once again demonstrated the great importance China attached to the issue of protecting children's rights. So far, 78 countries have signed and three of them have ratified the document, which is yet to come into force. (XNA, 17 Mar 01)

Hong Kong SAR Agreement with the European Union (Mar 16)

The Justice and Home Affairs Council of the EU announced on 16th March the decision to grant visa-free access to Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) passport holders. The Council Regulation would be published in the Official Journal and it would come into operation 20 days after publication. When implemented next month, the Council Regulation will enable HKSAR passport holders to visit 13 more member states visa-free for a stay of not more than three months. Chief Executive Tung Chee-hwa welcomed the adoption of a Council Regulation on Visa Policy by the EU's Justice and Home Affairs Council. "This is a milestone achievements in our efforts to enhance travel convenience for HKSAR passport holders", he said. "The visa-free arrangement is a definitive vote of confidence of the EU in the 'one country, two systems' arrangement." Regina Ip, secretary for security, said the HKSAR government will continue to do its best to enhance travel convenience for Hong Kong residents. "We warmly welcome this very positive decision which will further strengthen economic, cultural and tourist ties between Hong Kong and Europe", she said. The EU is Hong Kong's third largest trading partner. The decision, when implemented, will bring to 86 the total number of countries/territories granting visa-free access to HKSAR passport holders. Macau SAR Agreement with the European Union, Iceland and Norway (Mar 16)

Fifteen European countries (the 15 signatories of the Schengen Agreement) have decided to give visa-free treatment to those holding Macau passports, the Macau Special Administrative Region (MSAR) government announced on 16th March. Among them are Iceland, Norway, and 13 EU countries except Britain and Ireland. The EU countries made the decision, which will become effective in 20 days after promulgation, at an executive council meeting on 16th March. The EU representative in Hong Kong informed the MSAR government of the news by phone. Macau SAR passport holders may freely access to these 15 countries of Europe after late April or early May, Secretary for Public Administration and Justice Florinda da Rosa Silva Chan said on the same day. Macau passport holders can stay in each of the 15 countries for 90 days after receiving the free visa treatment. In line with the principle of fairness, people with passports of those countries are also permitted to be in Macau for 90 days, compared with the current 30 days, according to Florinda Chan. The number of Macau residents with the SAR passports has reached 60,000, out of a population of some 430,000. So far, 24 countries including 15 signatories of the Schengen Agreement in Europe, Turkey, Korea, South Africa, Samoa, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, Egypt and Republic of Kiribati, have granted visa-free access to Macau SAR passport holders. PRC Laws and Regulations

Decision of the NPC on amending the "Law of the PRC on Chinese-Foreign Equity Joint Ventures", adopted at the 4th session of the 9th NPC on 15th March 2001. (Decree No. 48 of the President of the PRC, signed by President Jiang Zemin on 15th March 2001) (Full text of the decision: RMRB, 21 Mar 01)

Law of the People's Republic of China on Chinese-Foreign Equity Joint Ventures, adopted at the 2nd session of the 5th NPC on 1st July 1979, amended according to the "Decision on amending the 'Law of the PRC on Chinese-Foreign Equity Joint Ventures'" at the 3rd session of the 7th NPC on 4th April 1990, and amended for the second time according to the "Decision on amending the 'Law of the PRC on Chinese-Foreign Equity Joint Ventures'" at the 4th session of the 9th NPC on 15th March 2001. (Full text of the revised law: RMRB, 21 Mar 01) This law, which consists of 16 articles, will go into effect on the day of promulgation.

Lawmakers described the amendment as a commitment by the country to the World Trade Organization (WTO), of which China is to be expected to become a member soon after 14 years of negotiations. The amendment removed provisions that require joint ventures to file their production and operation plans to relevant authorities and procure materials from within China whenever possible. It has also added provisions concerning labor protection and insurance, and arbitration of disputes involving joint ventures, upon suggestions from NPC deputies. The amendment is the second of its kind in the 22-year history of the law. The first was made in 1990. Nearly five months ago, the NPC Standing Committee passed similar amendments to a law on Sino-foreign co-operative enterprises and a law on wholly foreign-owned enterprises. Analysts say the amendments to the three laws represent China's commitment to the WTO and a logic development of the country's fledgling market economy. While explaining the amendment to the NPC session, Gu Angran, chairman of the Commission of Legislative Affairs of the NPC Standing Committee, said enterprises should have the freedom to decide production and procurement affairs under a socialist market economy, and that the government should not interfere in such affairs. He stressed "no difference should be made between foreign-funded and domestic enterprises". According to official statistics, since the promulgation of the joint venture law in 1979, China has approved 360,000 foreign-funded enterprises and attracted 348bn US$ in foreign direct investment. For seven straight years, China has received the most foreign direct investment among developing countries. (XNA, 16 Mar 01; Xinhua, 20 Mar 01, in BBC PF, 21 Mar 01)

Jiang Zemin, chairman of the Central Military Commission, recently signed an order on the issue and implementation of "Regulation of Military Science Research of the Chinese People's Liberation Army (PLA)". With 10 chapters and 42 articles, the regulation is the first basic regulation for military science research. The regulation stresses the need for military science research that provides theoretical support for the armed forces' modernization drive, and for forward-looking research into issues concerning winning a regional war using modern technology, particularly high-technology. The regulation was formulated by the Chinese PLA Military Academy of Sciences during the past six years. (RMRB, XNA, 25 Mar 01)

In order to guarantee procuratorial personnel carry out their official duties in line with law, and to guarantee that judicial work can be carried out justly, the Supreme People's Procuratorate recently issued Interim procedures on avoiding nepotism while procuratorial personnel hold their posts and or are carrying out official du- ties, urging procurators, secretaries, judicial administrative personnel, and judicial policemen of procuratorates at all levels to implement the system of avoiding nepotism while holding their posts or carrying out their official business activities. According to the interim procedures, those procuratorial personnel having husband and wife relations, direct relations by blood, collateral relations by blood within three generations, and relations by marriage among themselves are not allowed to work as chief procurators, deputy chief procurators, procuratorial committee members, procurators, assistant procurators, secretaries, judicial policemen, or judicial administrative personnel, in the same procuratorate. They are also not permitted to work as procurators, assistant procurators, secretaries, judicial policemen or judicial personnel in the same department with their relatives or to serve as chief procurators or deputy chief procurators in the neighbouring procuratorates with their relatives. Except for autonomous counties in minority nationalities areas, in general, procuratorial personnel are not allowed to serve as chief procurators in the procuratorates of their native counties. If the official business activities of procuratorial personnel, such as personnel management, financial management, as well as supervisory and auditing work, involve the interests of the procuratorial personnel themselves or their relatives, the related procuratorial personnel should not be permitted to participate in the assessment, investigation, discussion, verification, and decision-making work, nor should they be allowed to exert influence in any form. The interim procedures also stipulate that when a member of the procuratorial personnel leaves his post, he is not allowed to serve as a law agent or defender within two years. The interim procedures also specifically stipulate the procedures for avoiding nepotism and the method for handling procuratorial personnel who violate this system. A responsible person of the relevant department of the Supreme People's Procuratorate said that the system of avoiding nepotism among procuratorial personnel has provided a guarantee for procuratorial organs to enforce the law justly. Addenda

“Pharmaceutical Administration Law of the People's Republic of China“, adopted at the 7th session of the 5th NPC Standing Committee on 20th September 1984, and amended at the 20th session of the 9th NPC Standing Committee on 28th February 2001. The amended law will become effective as of 1st December 2001. (Decree No. 45 of the President of the PRC, signed by President Jiang Zemin on 28th February 2001) (Full text: RMRB, 11 Mar 01) This law contains ten chapters with 106 articles.

Li Boyong, vice-chairman of the NPC Law Committee, gave a presentation to the lawmakers on the draft amendments to the Pharmaceutical Administration Law on 26th February, which makes it clear that prescribed medicines are only permitted to be introduced in medical and pharmaceutical journals designated by the national medicine administrative departments. They are not allowed to be advertised in the mass media.

In order to better fight corruptive practice among medicine administrative departments, the draft amendments stipulate that such departments are prohibited to take part in producing or selling medicine, or to recommend or supervise the manufacturing and marketing of any medicine, Li noted.

The draft amendments lay down that relevant officials in the medicine administrative departments should be prosecuted should they are responsible for illegal action of medicine-related enterprises whose authorization certificates are issued by the department. “They even could be charged with criminal conviction“, Li noted.

According to the draft amendments, only licensed medicine dealers can sell manufactured medicine on markets.

CPI(A), CPI(B) and CPI(C) are compiled based on the expenditure patterns of households in the relatively low, medium and relatively high expenditure ranges respectively. A Composite CPI is compiled based on the overall expenditure pattern of all the above households taken together. The CPI(C) was formerly known as the Hang Seng CPI and was compiled by the Hang Seng Bank since 1974. Starting from the reference month of July 1999, the data collection and compilation work of the index have been taken up by the Census and Statistics Department and the index has been renamed as CPI(C).
