Chairmen and vice-chairmen of autonomous regional governments are equivalent to governors and vice-governors of provinces and to mayors and vice-mayors of Beijing, Chongqing, Shanghai and Tianjin. Year and month behind a name indicate the date the person assumed the post or was identified in this position.

Nine airlines and four service providers that originally belonged directly to the Civil Aviation Administration of China (CAAC) were merged and restructured into three aviation group companies and three service providing group companies. They are no longer affiliated with CAAC. The six group companies formed on 11 October are: China National Aviation Holding Co. (Zhongguo hangkong jituan gongsi), China Eastern Aviation Holding Co. (Zhongguo dongfang hangkong jituan gongsi), China Southern Aviation Holding Co. (Zhongguo nanfang hangkong jituan gongsi), China Travelsky Holding Co. (Zhongguo minhang xinzi jituan gongsi), China Aviation Oil Holding Co. (Zhongguo hangkong youliao jituan gongsi) and China Aviation Supplies Import and Export Group Corp. (Zhongguo hangkong wuqi jinchukou jituan gongsi). China National Aviation Holding Co. was formed by the merger of Air China, which is its principal part, and China Southwest Airlines and China National Aviation Corp. It has assets of 57.3bn RMBY and 23,000 employees, with a fleet of 119 aircraft serving 307 routes. China Eastern Aviation Holding Co. was formed with the merger of China Eastern Airlines, which is its principal part, and Yunnan Airlines and China Northwest Airlines. It has a total 47.3bn RMBY in assets and 25,000 employees, with a fleet of 142 aircraft serving 386 routes. China Southern Aviation Holding Co. was formed by the merger of China Southern Airlines with China Northern and Xinjiang Airlines. It has assets totalling 50.1bn RMBY and 34,000 employees. It has a fleet of 180 aircraft serving 666 routes. After the forming of the three group aviation companies, they still keep the brand names of Air China, China Eastern Airlines Co., and China Southern Airlines Co. At the same time they will assist in the separation of principal and auxiliary industries of the merged companies. The principal industry of aviation transportation and related assets are appropriated to Air China, China Eastern Airlines Co. and China Southern Airlines Co. The auxiliary industries will be restructured and combined and will all be managed by group companies. China Travelsky Holding Co. was formed by the merger of Civil Aviation Computer Information Centre, as its principal part, and China Aviation Accounts Centre. It has assets totalling 4.7bn RMBY. China Aviation Oil Holding Co. was formed on the basis of China Aviation Oil Co. with assets totalling 15.2bn RMBY. After the group company is formed, the primary and auxiliary parts will be separated. The primary part will be reformed into a shared structure by absorbing the domestic aviation transport industry and oil and oil refinery industries. China Aviation Supplies Import and Export Group Corp. was formed on the basis of China Aviation Supplies Import and Export Co. with total assets of 1.9bn RMBY. It is understood that after the formation of the six civil aviation groups as a direct subsidiary agency under the State Council in charge of the civil aviation industry of the whole nation, CAAC will take on the functions and tasks of safety management, market management, air traffic control, macro-adjustment and external relations. CAAC will no longer assume the functions and tasks of the owner of national assets of the six group companies. CAAC will realistically change to its government function and administer according to law to ensure aviation safety, regulate market behaviour, protect consumer rights, safeguard a fair environment for competition in the aviation industry, and do a good job in macro-adjusting and controlling the industry. Note: Since August 2000, the „resident population“ approach has been adopted in place of the „extended de facto approach for compiling population estimates. In the above table, statistics which are population-related have been revised accordingly and annotated with . CPI (A), CPI(B) and CPI(C) are compiled based on the expenditure patterns of households in the relatively low, medium and relatively high expenditure ranges respectively. A Composite CPI is compiled based on the overall expenditure pattern of all the above households taken together. The CPI(C) was formerly known as the Hang Seng CPI and was compiled by the Hang Seng Bank since 1974. Starting from the reference month of July 1999, the data collection and compilation work of the index have been taken up by the Census and Statistics Department and the index has been renamed as CPI(C).
