Chairmen and vice-chairmen of autonomous regional governments are equivalent to governors and vice-governors of provinces and to mayors and vice-mayors of Beijing, Chongqing, Shanghai and Tianjin. Year and month behind a name indicate the date the person assumed the post or was identified in this position.

A Central Coordinating Group for Hong Kong and Macau Work (zhongyang Gang Ao gongzuo xietiao xiaozu) was established after the "July 1 Protest March" in Hong Kong with Zeng Qinghong, Standing Committee member of the CCP CC Politburo and vice-president of the PRC, as its head. (JB, 2003/11, p.41)

The Work Safety Committee of the State Council held its 1st plenary session on 13 November in Beijing. Vice-Premier Huang Ju, director of the committee and member of the Standing Committee of the CCP CC Politburo, called for more efforts and attention to work safety. The committee is a national work safety watchdog, aiming to enhance national leadership and coordination in work safety. (XNA, 13 Nov 03)

China National Chemicals Import and Export Corporation (Sinochem) officially became Sinochem Corporation on 5 October 2003, in a move to show that China's traditional foreign trading giants were prepared to develop with international competition. Sinochem is the first national foreign trading enterprise to change its name with the approval of the Commission for Supervision and Management of State-owned Properties under the State Council. "The old name could not tell the company's business scope, market orientation and market value, let alone its future development direction," said its president Liu Deshu. "As Sinochem no longer merely deals with imports and exports, it is gradually building its own value chain and supporting industries for core businesses." The petrochemical giant has mainly engaged in the international and domestic trade of petroleum, fertilizers, chemicals and industrial investment. It has also in recent years expanded in finance, insurance, logistics and high-tech investment. Ranked in the Fortune Global 500 for 14 consecutive years from 1989 to 2002, Sinochem boasts 30 million tonnes of crude oil in import and entrepot trade and an industrial chain incorporating oil drilling, refining, trading and distributing. The giant group will keep the shortened forms of its Chinese and English names and logo unchanged as they are name brands and well-known in the global petrochemical industry. (XNA, 5 Nov 03)

(Decree No. 391 of the State Council and the Central Military Commission [CMC] of the PRC, signed by Premier Wen Jiabao and CMC Chairman Jiang Zemin on 11 September 2003) (Full text: RMRB, 16 Oct 03) The regulations consist of seven chapters with 53 articles. Rules governing auto financing companies. China has promulgated a set of administrative rules governing auto financing companies (AFCs) as part of its commitments to fulfilling the country's WTO entry obligations. The rules were issued on 3 October by the China Banking Regulatory Commission (CBRC), with approval from the State Council. Upon its entry into the WTO in December, 2001, China was committed to allowing the establishment of a non-bank financial institution to provide auto financing services. ... The AFCs provide loans for vehicle sales and engage in other financial activities. Containing five chapters with 42 articles, the new rules set forth an AFC's functions, conditions for an AFC's incorporation, change and termination, the business lines permitted to an AFC, and penalties on non-compliance activities of an AFC. ... Consistent with the promulgation of the rules, a set of corresponding implementation rules formulated by the CBRC will be promulgated soon, according to a CBRC source. (XNA, 5 Oct 03; full text: RMRB, 5 Oct 03)

AFCs are ready to compete with commercial banks for the Chinese auto finance market following new regulations that allow domestic and foreign firms to provide auto loans to customers. Under the rules ... companies with total assets over 4b RMBY (480m US$) and registered capital over 500m RMBY (60m US$) are eligible to set up business. Unlike commercial banks that mainly deal with loans, AFCs set up by large auto groups are capable of offering "one-stop" services, including extending loans or providing guarantees for such loans, purchasing cars and after-sales service like car maintenance. AFCs can also reduce their loan rates to zero to attract car buyers, though it is still not possible under present tight controls on interest rates. ... Foreign auto giants are closely watching the market as the rules, part of China's WTO commitments, have removed their final market barrier. Germany's Volkswagen and US-based General Motors and Ford have made preparations for car finance businesses in China and begun to apply for operating licenses. ... Although car loans to individuals had increased sharply since 1998, less than 20 percent of car buyers purchase with credit, against 70 percent in developed countries. Car manufacturers predict that with the move to boost the auto market, car sales will rise by 20 percent while the average price drops by 5 percent. (XNA, 18 Oct 03)

The Chinese central bank has issued a regulation on the management of foreign exchange agencies, which will take effect on 1 November. The regulation only allows foreign exchange agencies to change the convertible foreign currencies in cash or travel notes to Renminbi, but forbids foreign exchange purchase with Renminbi. Domestic residents and Chinese nationals living abroad on Chinese passport should buy foreign exchange they need from the concerned banks with Renminbi when heading abroad. Non-domestic residents, foreigners or residents from Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan, should go to the banks specified by the foreign exchange agency if they want to change the Renminbi they got from the foreign exchange agency back to foreign currency. The amount of exchange should be no higher than the original foreign exchange and the business should be performed within six months after the last foreign exchange transaction. Foreign exchange agencies refer to those domestic corporations authorized by the qualified domestic banks to have foreign exchange business by contract. According to the regulation, all corporations registered in China could apply to banks with foreign exchange business for authorization of the business and concerned banks could authorize any domestic corporations the rights to start this business. Those foreign exchange agencies set up before the regulation should make up the application procedure within two months after the regulation takes effect. If they fail to make up the application, they will not be allowed to have the foreign exchange business again. (XNA, 18 Oct 03; RMRB, 20 Oct 03)

China's courts at all levels will improve the efficiency and quality of judges by no longer allowing the position to be taken by clerks who work their way up, according to a news conference held on 27 October by the Supreme People's Court. Earlier this month, the Provisional Measures on Clerk Administration in the People's Court were jointly issued by the CCP CC Organization Department, the Personnel Ministry and the Supreme Court. The clerks, to be employed in the courts, are defined by the new measures as assistant personnel for judiciary affairs, such as taking notes, and they can not become judges any longer despite holding the post for a long time. Since New China was founded half of century ago, the clerks in the courts have been regarded as administrative cadres as well as the judges and they were promoted under the model from clerks to assistant judges to judges. Becoming a clerk was considered training for future work as a judge. As a result, the number of judges has been growing while the ratio of judges to clerks has been badly disproportionate, bringing a negative influence to the trials. Statistics show there were more than 300,000 personnel in the courts at all levels by the end of last year with nearly two thirds of them judges and only about 40,000 clerks in a reverse-pyramid construction. ... Instability and shortage of clerks in many courts forced the judges to do such jobs as taking notes and filing documents, which were not their own business, resulting in low efficiency in judgments. ... However, clerks were required to be professionals with a high educational level even in the beginning, and some were masters or doctors, which caused a waste of professional resources. ... According to the director of the Political Department in the Supreme Court, the Supreme Court is considering establishing the system of selecting judges from the lower level courts for the higher level ones and selecting them from legal professionals. CPI (A), CPI(B) and CPI(C) are compiled based on the expenditure patterns of households in the relatively low, medium and relatively high expenditure ranges respectively. A Composite CPI is compiled based on the overall expenditure pattern of all the above households taken together. The CPI(C) was formerly known as the Hang Seng CPI and was compiled by the Hang Seng Bank since 1974. Starting from the reference month of July 1999, the data collection and compilation work of the index have been taken up by the Census and Statistics Department and the index has been renamed as CPI(C).
