Notes on the mantras from Kaṭha-Saṃhitā in A Vedic Concordance

Makoto FUSHIMI

More than hundred years after the publication of A Vedic Concordance,¹ it was updated by FRANCESCHINI with the data from various texts.² Though many Vedic texts are available in electronic forms today, the Concordance is still an indispensable tool for Vedic studies.

Because only the first book of the text was published then³, there are some differences between some of the mantras from Kaṭha-Saṃhitā in A Vedic Concordance and the text of SCHROEDER's edition. Here the differences and some mantras which are not registered are listed for users' convenience until they are integrated into a new updated Concordance in the future.⁴

The numbers and the words in the parentheses are what the Concordance (VC) registers. The symbol '+' indicates that the mantra is not registered in the Concordance.
